REGIMENTAL FLAG

Of the Sixteenth Kentucky was Not Sent to This City for the Association Meeting of That Organization Last Week on Account of Delay in Letter.

County judge W. H. Rice is in receipt of a letter from Miss Sallie Jackson of Frankfort, librarian of the Kentucky State Historical Society stating the reason of Governor Stanley being unable to comply with the request of the members of the Sixteenth Kentucky Infantry to allow their regimental flag to be sent to this city on Wednesday last to be present at the Association meeting of that organization with the Tenth Kentucky Cavalry. The letter follows:

Frankfort, Ky., September 29, 1916.
Judge W. H. Rice, Maysville, Ky.

My Dear Sir: Your letter addressed to Governor Stanley has been handed to me this morning by the Governor's private secretary, Miss Mohler, for answer.

His Excellency being aware that the Kentucky State Historical Society has in its rooms and care a number of flags used in the Civil War, 1861-65, as one of the officers I drew out the record of those in our rooms to search for the one desired by the Sixteenth Kentucky Volunteer Infantry, without noting the day and date at first, and found the letter a delayed one, dated September 23rd, last Saturday, and this past Wednesday, the 27th, the occasion in which the surviving members of the regiment desired to display the flag for the pride and pleasure of those at the reunion at Maysville.

I will, when I have leisure, have the flags looked over carefully, decayed and faded as they are, and if the Sixteenth Kentucky Volunteer Infantry is among them, I will write you, and it is my instruction to say it would have given our society much pleasure to have loaned the one desired to you. Respectfully,

MISS SALLIE JACKSON,
Librarian, K. S. H. S.

The failure of the flag to come was the cause of much disappointment.

among the old soldiers, many of whom were eager to see the standard under which they once fought. Several of them have planned to ask for the flag next year. It is to be regretted that the flag did not arrive but certainly it will be here for the next reunion as the tenor of the letter is to the effect that the request could have been granted.

GEORGE BRADFORD

Gets One Year in the Penitentiary For Shooting Green Meadows With Intent to Kill.

The jury in the case of George Bradford, charged with shooting Green Meadows with intent to kill, returned a verdict yesterday of guilty and placed his punishment at one year in the state penitentiary.

Some months ago Bradford and Meadows were attending a crap game in the old sand pit near the L. & N. Round House. An argument started over a suitcase of whiskey and Bradford went to the home of a friend in Eastland and borrowed a shotgun. Returning to the sand pit he met Meadows and shot at him, the gunshot taking effect in his left arm and side. The wounded man was taken to the Hospital where he received medical attention. Bradford was captured by the police near Wood street in the East End and placed in jail where he has been since that time.

Meadows, the chief witness for the prosecution, was not present at the trial but Bradford was convicted without his testimony. Meadows was before the grand jury on September 4 after having spent the summer in West Virginia and it is supposed that he returned to that state.

This about winds up the criminal cases for this term of court, there being about three left. The remainder of the term will be spent in adjusting civil cases.

WORKING HOURS

Democrats and Republicans alike are fully aware that when the war closes in Europe that European countries, those of the allies and those of the Central Powers as well, will each organize to capture, so far as they can, the markets of the world for the distribution of the outputs of their industries.

Democrats and Republicans alike realize that when the disbanded armies return to their homes, and the returned soldiers seek employment at their former vocations, the mills, the shops, the factories of Europe will be offered labor at low prices, and that every wheel and every loom and every forge and every furnace will be put to work using that low-priced labor, and that its outputs will be pressed for sale in our markets as well as the markets of every other country on the face of the earth.

British and French, German and Russian, Austrian and Japanese, Belgian and Turkish industries will be supplied with millions of men who have for years endured hardships and privations upon daily pay that would not provide an average American family with bread alone, and these millions must work, and will work at starvation wages, and the markets of other nations will be swamped by their cheaply produced and cheaply sold outputs.

The gold that these countries have parted with since the war began, these foreign Governments, foreign bankers, foreign manufacturers, foreign merchants, with their foreign fleets of merchant men, will organize to regain, and they will strive their utmost to regain it from the people of the United States, who now hold much of it in their possession.

Society in the United States may favor an eight-hour day, as President Wilson says, and every person in this country would be delighted if our farmers and our farm laborers, our railways and their operating forces, our mine owners and our miners, our contractors and their workers could all afford to work but eight hours or five hours or three hours and make profits over and above expenses on their work at those hours. But how about it when society in foreign lands competes with our outputs through its outputs of workers on one-third wages admirably and very efficient working 10, 12 and even 14 hours per day in foreign countries? What chances for keeping our trade in foreign markets under these circumstances? What prospect of keeping our own markets from being swamped save by higher customs duties?

It will take all the energy, all the knowledge, all the wisdom of our statesmen and of our business men after the close of this European war to prevent disaster to our manufacturers in many lines and to prevent shutdowns and lockouts in our industrial districts.

If the interests of the United States are not made the paramount interests by the Government of the United States, if theories do not give place to thoroughly practical ideas and methods, if stalwart Americanism does not succeed to idiosyncracies in our foreign relations, it will not be a question of eight hours' work in our mills and shops and mines and factories, but a question of shutdowns and no work at all.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

IT CAN NOT BE DELIVERED

Daniel McGillicuddy, for years elected congressman in a labor electorate, the second district in Maine, was this year defeated, when on the face of it, labor might have been expected to vote for him. Commenting on this fact the New York Times says:

"The lesson is evident. The labor vote is cast just as other votes are cast. Trucking to it, abashing one's party before it, does not win it. The mechanics of Bath and Auburn voted on the issues of the day, just as did the farmers of Oxford County. Mr. Hughes's denunciations of the strike settlement, even his apparent hostility to the eight-hour principle, did not avail to arouse the unions of Sagadahoc against him. The congressmen who voted for the strike law did not annex to their following a body of voters voting blindly to reward any one who might coddle them at the expense of the public. The union labor men of Maine are vindicated from this charge made by those who regarded it not as a charge but as a compliment. There is a lesson, too plain to miss, for politicians all over the country."

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN LEAGUE

William B. Brewster, secretary of the National Republican League of Clubs, reports progress made for the week by the different clubs, particularly in California, Indiana, Iowa, and Missouri. In California the League has acted as the harmonizing agent in bringing together the Progressive and Republican factions with the result that the two parties are completely reunited. The provision in the constitution of the League which prevents it from taking part in the primary contests has made it possible for the California clubs to bring about this unity between the factions. From Iowa the Republican state chairman has wired for membership blanks for the organization of new clubs throughout the state.

Indiana has been thoroughly organized, and is absolutely safe for the Republican party, according to the reports of the local clubs. From Missouri F. Mont. Reilly, President of the Republican League of that state, writes, "I am too busy to make reports." This same spirit seems to characterize the work of the clubs in all of the states.

NEW YORK LETTER

(From Our Regular Correspondent)

"Stronger Than His Party!"—The defeat of President Wilson's candidate for the Senate and the renomination of Senator James Martine in the New Jersey primaries is the severest blow the popular Democratic fallacy that "President Wilson is stronger than his party" has thus far received. Senator Martine's election as Senator six years ago was brought about by Mr. Wilson, then Governor, at which time Mr. Wilson betrayed his own political sponsor, James Smith. Having made Martine Senator, Mr. Wilson thought he owned him and when on one or two occasions, Martine showed some independence and refused to vote as the White House directed, Mr. Wilson became very indignant and decreed that Martine should not return to the Senate. Accordingly, he fathered the candidacy of John W. Westcott, Attorney General of New Jersey, and caused all the influence of the White House and of the Democratic state machine to be exerted in Westcott's behalf. The result speaks for itself. Westcott was defeated and Martine renominated by 16,000 plurality. Democratic politicians in Jersey declare that the rank and file were not especially strong for Martine but that they bitterly resented President Wilson's autocratic attitude toward their Senator and his interference in the affairs of the State and that Martine's nomination is, therefore, far more of a rebuke for Wilson than a victory for Martine. The victory of Joseph S. Frelinghuysen over former Governor Franklin Murphy in the Republican senatorial primaries is a source of especial gratification to the progressive element of the Republican Party. Mr. Frelinghuysen's election is regarded as assured.

Mass. Spurns Wilson—Not alone in New Jersey has President Wilson sustained a humiliating defeat. In Massachusetts President Wilson has not only been repudiated by his own party, he has been slapped in the face. Gen. Chas. H. Cole, former adjutant general of the State, sought the nomination for Governor in Massachusetts and enjoyed the active support of the Wilson administration as well as of the state organization. Every federal officer holder in the state had his coat of working for Cole. On the other hand, a man named Mansfield, less able and less well known, sought the Democratic nomination. The character of the administration's opposition to Mansfield was such that it aroused the indignation of the Bay State Democrats and 45,530 Democrats voted for him, which gave him the nomination. The fight has split the Democratic Party wide open. The federal officers have been so bitter in their opposition to Mansfield that they cannot support him now, and neither can the President without stultifying himself. The result is that the re-election of Gov. Samuel McCall, never seriously in doubt, is absolutely assured and that the Wilson prestige has lost a few more ribs.

Perkins on Business—Gov. W. Perkins, than whom no one is more competent to speak of business conditions, has written an open letter to Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to the President, asking that Mr. Wilson point to a single specific instance wherein the Wilson administration has helped the business of the country. Mr. Perkins points to the "Seven Sisters" legislation which Mr. Wilson caused to be enacted by the New Jersey Legislature and widely advertised as solving the entire trust problem and asserts that there has never been any attempt to enforce them and that they have accomplished nothing. He points out that the Federal Trade Commission has no power to modify the Sherman Law and that he has yet to learn of an instance where that commission has been of service to business. He declares that by withdrawing from the Chinese loan arrangement, President Wilson shut the United States out of its natural opportunity to extend its trade in the Orient, and that by its attitude toward those Americans who in the past have gone into Mexico, invested their money and risked their lives, the Wilson administration has done everything possible to discourage future enterprise of that character. The Perkins letter constitutes a complete exposure of the hollowness of Mr. Wilson's claims that his administration has helped business.

Farmers Must Pay—Hon. James Wilson, who enjoys the record of having been Secretary of Agriculture longer than any other man in the history of the Nation, has issued a statement in which he insists that "the farmer must pay the freight." Mr. Wilson points out that the farmer is the largest shipper in the country and that obviously the increased cost of operating railroads resulting from the Wilson-Adamson wage increase law, must simply place an additional burden on the farmer. He says that the farmers are just and even liberal and that if, on thorough investigation, it had been found that certain railway men were receiving insufficient pay to enable them to live decently and to support and educate their families, the farmer would not have objected to paying his share of the increased cost of shipping, but that the farmer regards it as entirely unreasonable to ask him to stand for increased freight rates, brought about by a material increase of pay to the men who are already the best paid among railway employees, an increase in which so many even harder working employees of the railroads have no share.

Many Wouldbe Hosts—The determination of the administration to transfer the Mexican Conference from New London to Atlantic City, where there are so many delightful diversions and where time may be filled with a maximum of enjoyment, has led to keen competition from other cities which would like the distinction of entertaining this unique and innocuous conference and even more to be the recipient of the funds which the United States is expending so lavishly for the entertainment of the Carranza delegates and their suites. There is prospect that as the winter advances the leading Southern resorts will become aspirant for a share of this prosperity, and lively competition between the Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Louisiana resorts is expected. Southern Senators are expected to take part in the competition and to exert the same powerful influence which has long enabled them to effect the maintenance of obsolete Southern navy yards, and the expenditure of vast sums to refurbish those which the best military and naval judgment has decreed should be abandoned. The only menace to this program is the somewhat hasty and choleric temper of Carranza.

ANOTHER BIG ZEPPELIN DOWNED NEAR LONDON

London, October 2, 12:45 a. m.—Another Zeppelin raid against London and the east coast of England is in progress. An airship is reported to have been brought down in flames north of London, according to the official statement issued shortly after midnight.

Great crowds cheered the spectacle of the burning Zeppelin as it fell in the London district. The great flare from the burning aircraft was visible from a considerable distance.

Four Zeppelin raids on London and the east coast have been carried out in the last month, the more recent attacks being made by airships of the newer and bigger types. On September 2, one Zeppelin was struck while flying over the London district, and fell in flames.

Two Zeppelins were destroyed in the raid of September 23. On that occasion the raiders killed thirty-eight persons and wounded 125. The following night, in another raid, in which the airships apparently escaped without damage, they killed thirty-six persons and wounded twenty-seven.

In the raid of September 2 only two persons were killed and thirteen were injured.

Four electric buses operated as an experiment on the streets of London, England, covered a total distance of 65,470 miles within the year without accident or repairs.

JUSTICE HUGHES—HUMANIST

The Illinois Child Labor Law was upheld by the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of Sturges vs. Beauchamp, 231 U. S. Rep., page 320 (1913). Justice Hughes wrote that opinion.

The Pure Food Law of Illinois prohibiting the sale of food preservatives containing adulteration was upheld by the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of Price vs. Illinois, 238 U. S. Rep., page 446 (1914). Justice Hughes wrote that opinion.

The California Eight Hour Law for women was upheld by the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of Bosley vs. McLaughlin, 236 U. S. Rep., page 385 (1914). Justice Hughes wrote that opinion.

In the Leo Frank case of Georgia, Justice Hughes with Justice Holmes dissented from the majority of the Supreme Court of the United States which refused the application for a writ of habeas corpus, in these words: "It is our duty to act... now and to declare lynch law as little valid when practiced by a regularly drawn jury as when administered by one elected by a mob intent on death." See Frank vs. Mangum, 237 U. S. Rep., 345 (1914).

The Iowa law prohibiting railroads from making contracts with their employees limiting the right to recover damages, in advance of the injuries received, was upheld by the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of C. B. & Q. R. R. vs. McGuire, 219 U. S. Rep., page 549 (1910). Justice Hughes wrote that opinion.

The Labor Contract of Alabama which in effect made the failure to perform contracts of labor a crime was held unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of Bailey vs. Alabama, 219 U. ### FAMILY AVOIDS SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Theodor's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whitaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble."

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Theodor's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught.

Theodor's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

Your druggist sells and recommends Theodor's Black-Draught. Price only 25c. Get a package today.

PRESIDENT W. A. GANFIELD

Educator of National Reputation and Prominent Educator.

Though not a Kentuckian, and having lived in the state only a little over a year, President Ganfield, of Center College, Danville, is fast making friends in all parts of the state. No man has been so in demand for addresses on public occasions during the last year. As soon as he arrived in the state he connected himself with all the movements that are trying to make this a greater state. His experience in educational and religious movements in the North and West give him a fund of information that enables him to speak with a broad outlook. The committee is glad that Dr. Ganfield could be one of the speakers at the Somerset Convention in October.

WHEN JULIUS CAESAR RAN THE NEWS

There was no stereotyping plant, when Julius Caesar was extant. No Mergenthaler sang its song. Octuples had not come along. There was no ink in reds and blues, when Julius Caesar ran the news.

When Julius Caesar needed news, there was no telephone to use. He had to climb aboard a horse and get exclusive scoops by force. There was not then, as we may guess, a good Associated Press.

Because his method thus was crude; they buried those he interviewed which seems to indicate a lack of finer reportorial knack. Still one good point is clearly spied. His interviews were not denied.

When Julius Caesar edited, exchanges were not credited. When he met items face to face he grabbed them quickly to fill his space. Thus normally he came to be the first great editorialist.

In many another matter, too, he did just what we fellows do. He always did the modern stunt. He always put the news up front. He gave his staff assignments tough and kept his galleys full of stuff.

Though he could not rush news to press in fifteen minutes more or less, yet he had every other art that editors must have by heart. Just scan this stuff. We've got a hunch you'll say that Julius had the punch.

When Julius Caesar's time was ripe there was no Lino to stick his type. So Brutus with some other chaps stuck him old Roman Style in Caps.

CHURCH FLOOR COLLOPSES

Binghamton, N. Y., October 1—Fifty-three persons were injured this afternoon when the floor of the First Presbyterian Church, of Johnson City, collapsed during the services being held in connection with the laying of the cornerstone. Seven of this number are seriously hurt, but it is believed all will recover. Two hundred and fifty persons were hurled into the basement, eighteen feet below, when the floor gave way, and it was nearly a half an hour before all had been released.

The floor was a temporary one constructed to care for the dedication crowd. The pastor stated tonight that the responsibility could be placed on no one, since several contractors had expressed their belief that the floor was safe. All of the injured are residents of this city.

CLOTHES ECONOMY

Look at it this way: A suit purchased here at $25 will not sag or bag because the sag and bag has been shrunk out of the fabrics, inside and out. It will not lose its style for that has been tailored into it by experts. It will satisfy because of its stability. $25 is only a few dollars more than cheap clothes cost. $25 suit will outwear a cheap suit two to one; it will outlast a cheap suit four or five to one. True economy always looks beyond the purchase price.

KUPPENHEIMER CLOTHES

are spoken of as a greater value. Men who buy them and wear them, come back and duplicate their purchase each season in the season's latest styles.

I have on file in the office a complete summary of other months since I have been Superintendent. Looking over these past records, I note the following comparisons of this September, 1916, 1004; September 1915, 987; September 1914, 993; September 1913, 970. The average attendance for the month, 1916, 934; 1915, 914; 1914, 927, and 1913, 883. The High School has the same average attendance this September as last, 214.

The schools all over the city have begun the work of the new year in splendid shape. During the summer months, all buildings were thoroughly cleaned and disinfected. The auditorium of the High School Building was newly tinted. A circular swing, or "Giant Stride" was put up at the First District Building and some swings, flying rings, and trapeze were installed at the Forest Avenue Building. The swings at both buildings were purchased from the entertainment fund of the schools.

The class rooms of the First District Building are the prettiest rooms in the city. I notice someone gave our janitor at that building the deserved commendation for the attractive way he keeps his grounds. With good teachers, attractive rooms, beautiful grounds in front, ample play room in the rear equipped with some playground apparatus, a penny lunch maintained by the P. T. A. this building offers an ideal place for school facilities up through the Sixth Grade.

We are especially asking the parents of all High School students, that they co-operate with us in seeing that some study is done at the homes at night and too, we ask your co-operation in establishing Friday and Saturday recreation nights, rather than other school nights of the week. We do not want to send from this office a yellow slip stating that your son or daughter is doing unsatisfactory work. For that reason, we are asking the above mentioned requirements. As in previous years, all students throughout the schools, who have not been tardy nor absent and whose average in scholarship and deportment is 90 per cent. or better, will be placed on the Honor Roll. This Honor Roll appears in Tuesday's paper immediately following the close of the school month. On Monday, the first day of each school month, the report cards are given to the students of all of the schools, covering the work of the previous month. Please examine personally these reports and any matter unsatisfactory, call to our attention. We are as anxious that your child make good grades, as you, so if there is anything wrong, let us get together and remedy it.

W. J. CAPLINGER.

Physical Measurements Introduced in Maysville High School

The Maysville High School following the larger and more modern high schools of the country, has introduced physical measurement and examination. This means that every student will be examined for outstanding defects and all such defects will be overcome, in so far as possible, by special gymnastics and calisthenics, which are given by competent and specially trained teachers. Measurements also will be made of each student, in order to give the teacher the vital capacity of each pupil. This enables the teacher in his study of the individual, which is absolutely necessary for the welfare of the student and school. Parents also should be interested in the physical record of their children, and can obtain such information by calling at the office not earlier than October tenth. The apparatus for this work consists of scales for weight, spirometer for lung capacity, dynamometer for grip, and standard for height. From these measurements it is possible to calculate the vital index, which is very significant in determining the condition of the individual. These measurements will be made annually or semi-annually through the four years and their card given them upon graduation.
